

It has been a wonderful experience of having academic video tie up program with ILBS. The topics, contents and presentation in field of hepatology is of high standard and very much liked by our residents and faculty members.

All this speaks volumes of academic excellence achieved by ILBS which is going to be a big inspiration of all our residents.

Gradually this program is receiving popularity among residents & our faculty and I am sure of more and more no. of people attending it in future.

Best regards
